BONNY MARE TAKING CONNECTIONS ON EXCITING RIDE

The aptly named Bonny Lass (NZ) (Super Easy) is ensuring her sizeable and enthusiastic support crew continue to celebrate the racing and social rewards of affordable thoroughbred ownership.

Trained by Graham Richardson and Rogan Norvall, last season's Gr.1 BCD Group Sprint (1400m) winner opened her current campaign in a blaze of glory with victory in Saturday's Gr.2 Foxbridge Pate (1200m) at Te Rapa.

Bonny Lass is raced by the 50-strong Social Racing Starting Gates Syndicate, managed by Brent Cooper who also shares in the ownership group with wife Wendy, the New Zealand Trainers' Association Executive Officer, and the mare's breeder Sandy Moore.

"Sandy and I met during my first year on the Auckland Racing Club board and it was quite serendipitous really," Cooper said.

"He had never won a race at Ellerslie, he had been trying for years. He had Posh Bec (NZ) (Le Bec Fin) in the Soliloquy Stakes (Listed, 1400m) and my very first syndicate horse was Masquerade (NZ) (No Excuse Needed) who beat Posh Bec.

"That was the start of a rivalry and also a very strong friendship, Posh Bec is Bonny Lass' mother and she ultimately gave Sandy his first winner at Ellerslie.

"The only sad thing about that was it was on Boxing Day during COVID and he wasn't allowed there due to the restrictions."

Cooper has owned and operated Social Racing since 2014 following a 30-year career in the fashion industry and was a Director of the Auckland Racing Club from 2008- 2021.

"I was originally contracted by (former NZTR Chief Executive) Greg Purcell, who launched Social Racing independently in 2012 through a marketing agency," he said.

"He brought me on board and I changed the model a bit, made it smaller and got people more engaged in the ownership at a small cost.

"I did that for a couple of years and then Greg left and I took the brand over and the timing was quite good.

"I had Aoetearoa who was aligned with the Olympic rowers and was doing quite well. That had about 100 people involved and I started bringing in new syndicates like the Auckland Racing Club Winners' Circle, I was still on the board at that stage."

Cooper currently has 10 syndicates and 13 horses with about 300 active owners.

"I developed the concept into a paid model, reduced the numbers to a maximum of 100 people so there was more engagement, and the racing clubs were happy to welcome that number," he said.

"I've kept the costs, and my management fees, to a minimum and it's become quite commercial but has never lost its primary focus.

"That is to be affordable and more about the experience and meeting people and making good friends.

"It's mainly a lease model but we've got three horses that we've bought racing at the moment, including Social Climber who runs in the Wanganui Guineas (Listed, 1200m)."

The Gr.1 Tarzino Trophy (1400m) at Hastings is Bonny Lass' next target and she will be much improved for her resuming outing.

"The Tarzino is the plan and she really needed that run on Saturday, we honestly didn't expect her to win," Cooper said.

"She was a little bit tubby and woolly, so as long as she pulls up fine, she'll be there.

"A better track will suit her and a heavy track would probably keep Crocetti away, but I really don't mind which way it goes to be honest.

"Nothing scares her and she can do anything, she's so tractable and she can go back or lead."

The daughter of Super Easy has now won eight of her 21 starts and more than $745,000.

"She's an absolute sweetheart and out on the track she's a titan," Cooper said.

"She's been remarkably consistent and Graham and Rogan have done a wonderful job, they are a delight to work with and so professional."

THE GOOD FIGHT TOPS KIWI DOMINANCE AT AUSTRALIAN GRAND NATIONAL

New Zealand-bred horses dominated the Australian Grand National meeting at Ballarat on Sunday, winning four of the six jumping races, including a phenomenal performance by The Good Fight (NZ) (High Chaparral) to win the A$400,000 Grand National Steeplechase (4500m).

In his first preparation over fences, The Good Fight has made a rapid rise through the grades progressing from a maiden hurdle success at Warrnambool in late June to a game second behind fellow-Kiwi bred Affluential (NZ) (Zed) in the Australian Grand National Hurdle (4200m) on August 4.

The 10-year-old was out to go one better in the steeplechase equivalent, where impressive front-runner Stern Idol (Raven's Pass) was tipped the horse to beat coming off a success in the Crisp Steeplechase (4200m).

Stern Idol, in his customary role, lead the field through most of the contest while The Good Fight bided his time midfield, and it became apparent nearing the home turn that it was going to be a two-horse battle between the latter and the Te Akau Racing representative Leaderboard (Street Cry).

A very game Leaderboard began to tire over the second-last fence as The Good Fight was seemingly full of running, and the gelding powered away at the finish to score by 25 lengths under Darryl Horner Jr.

Rachael Cunningham, who prepares The Good Fight at Pakenham, was thrilled to collect her second Steeplechase crown, after winning in 2020 with another former Kiwi in Bee Tee Junior (NZ) (Nom du Jeu).

"They all mean a lot, this one means a hell of a lot," Cunningham told Racing.com.

"This horse is very special – he's an incredible horse, I've wanted him for years and I was underbidder on Inglis.

"Even before today, this is his first jumping prep... he's had a mammoth season, and coming into this race today, I just knew he was better than he was at the start.

"We were confident in our preparation, we were confident in the horse, in Darryl. We were confident in what we'd done to get him here.

"It's a race, so you just hope that it all comes together, and it did today thankfully."

A son of High Chaparral, The Good Fight was bred by Dame Sian Elias and Hugh Fletcher, who sold him for $300,000 to Shaune Ritchie at the 2016 Karaka Yearling Sales. Ritchie and co-trainer Colm Murray prepared the gelding to win the Gr.3 Rotorua Cup (2200m) in 2021, alongside placings in the Gr.3 City Of Auckland Cup (2400m) and Gr.3 Wellington Cup (3200m).

Following his Rotorua Cup triumph, The Good Fight crossed the Tasman and was transferred to the stable of Michael Moroney, before subsequently being sold for $40,000 via Inglis Digital to Reece Goodwin, who trained him for a short period of time prior to entrusting him in the care of Cunningham to commence his jumping career.

Sunday's victory increased his career earnings over $746,000, with seven wins and 19 minor placings in 61 starts, surpassing the total stakes of his talented dam Pravda (NZ) (Zabeel), who was a two-time Australian Group Three winner and runner-up in the Gr.1 New Zealand Oaks (2400m).

Earlier in the meeting, unbeaten hurdler The Cunning Fox (NZ) (Reliable Man) maintained his unblemished record when scoring in the JJ Houlahan Hurdle (3250m), coming out on top in a tough battle in the closing stages with second-favourite Point Nepean (Camelot).

Prepared by Patrick Payne, The Cunning Fox is a six-year-old son of Westbury Stud sire Reliable Man, who was exported to Australia as a weanling and sold to Prime Thoroughbreds at the Magic Millions Gold Coast Yearling Sale for $34,000.

The Cunning Fox is now a winner of eight races and $521,850 in stakes, with stakes-level credentials on the flat placing in the Listed Galilee Series Final (2400m) and Listed VRC St Leger (2800m).

He was ridden by expat-Kiwi hoop Aaron Kuru, who also won the previous race aboard Nassak Diamond (NZ) (Roc de Cambes) after a successful protest against Hit The Road Jack (NZ) (Jakkalberry), with the latter being relegated to second following evidence of interference in the home straight.

Bred and owned by The Oaks Stud, Nassak Diamond is another former Ritchie-Murray galloper, having won the Jericho Cup (4600m) for the Cambridge trainers and remained in Australia with Payne, who has prepared her to win both of her hurdle starts to date.

An outstanding quartet of Kiwi victories was completed by Duke Of Bedford (NZ) (Tavistock) in the Henry Dwyer Steeplechase (3600m), the son of Tavistock putting on a stylish display in front throughout to coast in by 12 lengths to Cleaver (NZ) (Guillotine) and Not Usual Dream (NZ) (Shocking).

Duke Of Bedford was bred by Graham and Helen-Gaye Bax of Blandford Lodge.

PARKER AND MYERS COMBINE FOR A DOUBLE AT HAWERA

Dean Parker on his way to a race-to-race double at Hawera aboard Mugshot. (Peter Rubery (Race Images Palmerston North))

After finishing among the minor placings in the feature races at Te Rapa on Saturday, Kevin Myers and jockey Dean Parker were back on top at Hawera a day later, picking up an early double over the fences.

Myers had a trio of contenders in the New Zealand Horse Ambulance Trust Maiden Hurdle (3100m) to kick off the meeting, and two of those, Duke Of Plumpton (NZ) (Bachelor Duke) and Murphy (NZ) (Tarzino), were second and third-favourites respectively with Kahu Rock (NZ) (Alamosa) on top at $4.30.

Duke Of Plumpton was making his jumping debut after a successful flat career in both Australia and New Zealand, establishing a record that included six wins for co-owners Patrick Payne and Myers. Well-prepared for his first attempt, the nine-year-old settled back in the field under Parker while Youledo (NZ) (Fabulous) stormed out to a sizable lead heading into the second lap.

The leader began to tire nearing the 800m and Kahu Rock led the charge to run him down, while Duke Of Plumpton entered the home straight with five horses ahead of him. His ability on the flat was telling in the finish, and despite landing behind Kahu Rock over the last, he powered over the top late to score by a half-neck with Murphy a close margin back in third.

Parker is based at Myers' stable out of Wanganui and he was pleased with the gelding's first-up effort with plenty of improvement still to come.

"He's been schooling for a while, he's probably not the quickest jumper over a fence but his flat ability makes up for that in between the jumps," he said.

"There's definitely a lot of room for further improvement but he gives a nice enough feel, he's still got a bit to learn in terms of jumping in a race as he mucked a few fences up and just needs to flow along."

A $15,000 purchase for Myers at the 2017 Karaka Yearling Sales, the son of Bachelor Duke has earned more than $229,000 in prizemoney from 45 starts. His half-brother, Slowpoke Rodriguez (NZ) (Istidaad), won eight races in Australia in Payne's care for Myers including the Crisp Steeplechase (4200m) in 2020.

The Parker-Myers combination were back in the winner's circle in the following event, with the progressive Mugshot (NZ) (Echoes Of Heaven) taking out the Big Blade 0-1 Hurdle (3100m).

Flying slightly under the radar, the son of Echoes Of Heaven was in the middle market at $9.20, with Forty Eight (NZ) (Ekraar) closing race-favourite at $3.50 ahead of Ata Rangi (NZ) (Haradasun). In similar fashion to his stablemate in the previous, Mugshot sat near the tail of the compact field and jumped consistently throughout, conserving energy before the pressure came on at the 800m.

Swooping into contention in the home straight, Mugshot flew the last fence alongside Forty Eight and had the winning momentum, pulling clear of the favourite by three-quarters of a length.

The win was Parker's second from four starts aboard the six-year-old, who has continued to improve through his opening season as a hurdler.

"I expected him to go well early on, I felt he went quite well in his first start at Hastings to be fair, then his win at Waverley was quite good, he just got a bit lost through the line," Parker said.

"He jumped really well today, there's more improvement to come with him as well and we definitely haven't reached the end of his distance range, he'd happily look for another 1000m.

"I think he's a pretty nice horse going forward."

Myers purchased Mugshot via gavelhouse.com in 2020 for just $700 from breeder Geoffrey Georgetti, and in 10 starts, he has recorded three wins and just shy of $50,000 in stakes earnings.

Parker was briefly sidelined with an injury following a fall at Woodville in May and has had plenty of success in the second half of the season, particularly aboard Myers' talented contingent.

"It was good to get a winner on my first day back from injury, it was a bit of a pick me up," he said.

"Today was good too, to get the new season going with a few winners."

DIAMOND JAK CAPS MEMORABLE DOUBLE FOR BROSNAN BROTHERS

A convincing victory by Diamond Jak (NZ) (Jakkalberry) in the $50,000 Savabeel 2100 capped a special hour at Te Rapa on Saturday for Matamata brothers Peter and Mark Brosnan.

The two trainers collected wins in back-to-back races on the Te Rapa card, starting with Ima Wonder's (NZ) (Eighth Wonder) triumph for Peter Brosnan and his wife Jessica in the Bridges Insurance Services Pakuranga Hunt Cup (4800m).

Mark Brosnan followed suit 40 minutes later, saddling Diamond Jak for a richly deserved success in the day's 2100m open handicap.

Diamond Jak headed to Te Rapa on Saturday in search of redemption, having run a close and unlucky second after a wide run in last month's Taumarunui Gold Cup (2200m) at the same venue.

This time jockey Jasmine Fawcett took up a position on the outside of the pace-making My Maebelline Girl (NZ) (Shamoline Warrior) for the majority of the 2100m journey, then quickened and headed that rival soon after straightening for home.

Diamond Jak faced stern opposition on both flanks through the final 200m, with My Maebelline Girl refusing to lie down on his inside while Dashwood (NZ) (Redwood) challenged strongly wider out on the track. But Diamond Jak dug deep and pulled away from that pair, crossing the finish line a length and a half ahead.

The six-year-old son of Jakkalberry has now had 23 starts for four wins, nine placings and $125,625 in prize-money.

"It's been a pretty good day for the family," Mark Brosnan said. "I thought Diamond Jak won very well today. He was strong.

"We rode him a bit differently this time, just because of race circumstances. He did a good job, and I think he really deserved to win a nice race like that after being so unlucky in his last run.

"What we do with him from here is a very difficult question. He's a four-win horse, but he'd be close to topweight in most open handicaps now. There's not a lot of options available to us. But we'll take this win for now and enjoy that, and then we'll take a bit of time to work through where we might go with him from here."

SUIT YOURSELF SCORES POIGNANT VICTORY AT TE RAPA

Promising three-year-old Suit Yourself (NZ) (Savile Row) honoured the memory of the late Kevin Hickman in perfect fashion when he scored a special victory at Te Rapa on Saturday.

The Pam Gerard-trained colt is a son of Savile Row, one of the many tremendous horses bred and raced by Hickman who passed away on Friday after a lengthy illness.

Hickman developed his Valachi Downs Stud into an internationally respected thoroughbred nursery, with Savile Row one of the many Group One performers bred and raced from the Matamata-based operation.

Suit Yourself is from the third crop of the multiple Group One placegetter, who currently stands at Mapperley Stud and had been well-favoured to score on debut at Rotorua last month but had to settle for the runner-up position on that occasion.

Punters were keen to follow up in the maiden 1200m event at Te Rapa and were rewarded for that support as rider Ryan Elliot produced a gem to launch an attack at the 300m that saw the combination shoot clear and then grimly hold on to a margin over the hard chasing Myakkabelle (NZ) (War Decree) at the finish.

Gerard was full of enthusiasm for the horse who she and partner Tommy Hazlett purchased as a weanling for $3,000 on gavelhouse.com, when Valachi was dispersing horses due to the ill health of Hickman.

"That was the plan to try and get a win early in his career and he's been a really nice colt right through," Gerard said.

"He didn't do everything right, but he'd had that race day experience and is learning all the time.

"We're looking forward to getting him up over 1400m and a mile, and may look towards the Hawkes Bay Guineas (Gr. 2, 1400m) or, possibly, sending him south early to Riccarton.

"He does seem to handle give in the ground, but also has a pretty nice action so we expect he will quicken accordingly on better footing. He's big, strong, and balanced, so he can get through it.

"He's very much in the mould of his old man (Savile Row) and we've seen a lot of similarities in everything about him.

"He's so much like Savile Row it's not funny. Three or four months after we bought him, he had the same shiny coat and just looked amazing.

Suit Yourself comfortably winning the Banquo 3yo 1200 at Te Rapa on Saturday. (Trish Dunell)

"We were lucky enough to buy him before the half-sister (Sedaka) won and then finished second in the Royal Stakes (Gr. 2, 2000m) and Sunline Vase (Gr. 3, 2100m).

"I see Suit Yourself as a real Derby type, but that's a long way off at the moment."

Elliot was also suitably impressed by the effort.

"He's still got a few things to learn as he is still doing a few things wrong, but he is a nice horse going forward," he said.

"He is a real colt and gets on the toe but has a bright future ahead of him.

"He jumped a bit slow, and we had to work around them but when he hit the front, he was still a bit green but once he sharpens that up, he will be a very nice horse."

Suit Yourself is the ninth individual winner for his sire who was a stakes winner and three times Group One placed performer and the first son of Makfi to stand at stud in New Zealand. He will stand for a service fee of $2,500 + GST for the 2024 breeding season. - LOVERACING.NZ News Desk

PUBLIC ATTENTION TO STEP OUT AT CRANBOURNE

Stylish debut winner Public Attention (NZ) (Written Tycoon) will progress his campaign towards the Gr.1 Caulfield Guineas with a barrier trial at Cranbourne on Monday.

The Mick Price and Michael Kent Jnr-trained three-year-old scored at the final meeting of the 2023-24 season at Caulfield with Price immediately setting his sights on the stallion making race over 1600m at Caulfield in October.

Public Attention is set to trial over 800m on Monday in preparation for his return in the Listed McKenzie Stakes (1200m) at Moonee Valley on September 7.

Price took advantage of taking Public Attention to Moonee Valley last week for a gallop and said the colt had improved immensely since his debut run.

"I set him a little bit of a challenge by sitting in front at Moonee Valley, where he's never been in the gallop," Price said.

"I thought he was very professional and will be going into the Mitchell McKenzie, into the Caulfield Guineas Prelude and into the Caulfield Guineas, all being well.

"He's a good horse that has progressed well. He's a good-tempered colt, but he is a colt, and they do have personalities.

"He'll trial on Monday and then head to McKenzie Stakes."

Public Attention was bred by Sir Patrick and Lady Hogan. He is by Written Tycoon and is the first foal out of the twice-winning Commands mare Legramor (NZ) (Commands), whose dam Katie Lee (Pins) made New Zealand racing history with her unprecedented double in the Gr.1 New Zealand 2000 Guineas (1600m) and Gr.1 New Zealand 1000 Guineas (1600m).

The grey colt was bought by Tom Magnier for $160,000 from Carlaw Park's Book 1 draft at Karaka 2023.

JAKAMA KRYSTAL CONTINUES STELLAR WEEKEND FOR STABLE

*Jakama Krystal on her way to winning the Clayton Yaxley Maiden Steeplechase (3900m) at Hawera on Sunday.
(Peter Rubery (Race Images Palmerston North))*

Jakama Krystal (NZ) (Jakkalberry) capped off a weekend to remember for Peter and Jessica Brosnan with a classy front-running performance to win the Clayton Yaxley Maiden Steeplechase (3900m) at Hawera on Sunday.

The Brosnan's collected the major spoils in the Pakuranga Hunt Cup (4800m) on Saturday with Ima Wonder (NZ) (Eighth Wonder), and they were straight back on the road to the Central Districts with Jakama Krystal, who was on steeplechasing debut after a pair of successes in the hurdling role.

Rated a $5.10 third-fancy behind Khafeef (Champs Elysees) ($2.90) and Zeefa Zed (NZ) (Zed) ($3.20), the mare was straight into her work and moved up to sit outside the early leader in Uncle Charlie (NZ) (Alamosa), but coming down the home straight for the second time, jockey Jay Kozaczek allowed her to extend the margin.

With ears pricked, Jakama Krystal was full of running as she flew her fences along the back stretch and had the field chasing a long way from home, with Obrigado getting the closest as she powered to victory by 7 $\frac{3}{4}$ lengths.

Watching from home in Matamata, Jessica Brosnan was thrilled with the daughter of Jakkalberry and indicated she will be mixing steeplechasing and hurdling in the future.

"She likes free-rolling out in front, I was a bit worried about the extra distance of the steeplechase and I don't think she's come to the end of it hurdling, but it adds another string to her bow," she said.

"She can go wherever now, we'll keep her at those style of jump as the brush fences aren't really her thing.

"We've got a couple of Woodville meetings left and she's won there over the hurdles, so depending on what the weather does and who wants to ride her, she could go in either of the hurdles or steeplechases."

A winner of five races, Jakama Krystal holds a special place in the hearts of the Matamata trainers, as she was formerly trained by a close friend in the late Glynn Brick prior to his tragic passing in 2020.

"She came through Peter's best friend Glynn Brick, he unfortunately died in a car accident so we inherited her and the owner as well, Jane Baker, who has a half-share in her with us," Brosnan said.

"Anything we do with her is a very special, because Glynn was very proud of her and loved the jumpers. If he was still alive now with the jumping days we have here, he would be in his element.

"We got a couple of other horses from him that also won, so we're privileged to have Krystal and keeping her going."

Looking ahead to the Great Northern Steeplechase (6400m) to be run on September 15 at Te Rapa, the stable hope to engage both Ima Wonder (NZ) (Eighth Wonder) and Auld Jock (Adelaide), with the latter coming off a massive performance for second behind West Coast in the Grand National Steeplechase (5600m) earlier this month.

"He (Auld Jock) has had a week off in the paddock, then we worked him at home and swam him last week. He's pretty full of himself, so he'll go back to the track this week and get back up to his normal work," Brosnan said.

"If he continues this way, we may have to give him a run on the flat so that he's not too fresh for the 6400 metres. He always tries his little heart out so I think he'll see out the distance."

Ima Wonder's success was particularly fitting for the stable as they prepare her for legendary racing figure Ann Browne, who prepared her mother Ima Heroine (NZ) (Heroicity) to win the Great Northern Steeplechase in 2011.

"Ima Heroine won the Great Northern Steeplechase in the same year we won the Great Northern Hurdles with Southern Countess, they were the first mares in 60 years to win and Matthew Gillies rode both horses," Brosnan said.

"Matt came to Te Rapa just to watch Wonder's race, so that was awesome.

"Mrs Browne is fantastic for racing and particularly jumps, she, Kenny (Browne) and Brian Timms introduced the jumps down the back straight at Te Rapa and they put so much work in.

"For her to win a race over her jumps is just amazing, she's an absolute legend.

"I haven't been able to catch Wonder today, so that's how tired she is. I got close enough to check out her legs and she's looking good, she's bucking and rearing around her paddock.

"We went there with an open mind yesterday to give her an opportunity to look at the brush fences at Te Rapa, in the hope that she would go well enough to push on to the Northern.

"We knew getting her back to the live fences, that would be her go. I'm not convinced she wants a really heavy track, so the slightly better surface was preferable as well.

"It was a huge thrill, hopefully we can carry on and go close in the Northern."

BACK-TO-BACK FOR BATTLE SECRET

Battle Secret (NZ) (Battle Paint) has been a quiet achiever in the Bill Thurlow stable throughout his career and continued a purple patch of form this campaign going back-to-back at Hawera on Sunday.

The seven-year-old had saluted second-up at Woodville over a mile in Rating 75 company, and remaining in that grade, he stepped up in distance while sitting among the favoured runners for the Norwood 2100 R75.

Jumping from the outside barrier, Battle Secret was swiftly eased back to last by jockey Masa Hashizume and travelled comfortably through the mid-stages. Hashizume allowed the gelding to slide off the fence and track around his rivals at the 800 metres, storming into contention and hit the lead on straightening.

Wheelitin (NZ) (Ekraar) was the main danger and fought gamely on the inside with a six-and-a-half kilogram weight advantage on Battle Secret, but despite this, he was too strong in the finish and powered to the line by a long neck.

"It was a really nice run, he settled pretty well and found the line, he was ridden really well too," Thurlow said.

"We're very happy with him, he's doing a good job.

"We'll continue to try to place him in this kind of race over the next couple of weeks, I haven't had a look yet as we were just hoping to get through today first.

"If everything goes right, he could be a nice country cup's type of horse a bit further down the track which would be nice."

The Waverley horseman praised the efforts of Hashizume, who retained the ride after guiding the son of Battle Paint at Woodville.

"Masa has ridden a little bit for us and he's going really well at the moment, he's a jockey I've watched a bit and I like his style of riding," Thurlow said.

"He gets along with our horses well, he rides them patiently and if he keeps coming down to the CD, that would be good."

Now a winner of five races from 25 starts, Battle Secret has won over $70,000 in stakes for a large ownership group, which includes his breeders.

Earlier in the week, Thurlow's top string in Group One winner No Compromise (NZ) (Pins), Listed winner No Rain Ever (No Nay Never) and the well-performed Frank The Tank (NZ) (Burgundy) all made an appearance at the Foxton trials, with pleasing performances across the board.

"No Compromise trialled really well I thought, his last 150 metres was very good without being asked," Thurlow said.

"We went there with no expectations, it was just a run around so he'll trial again on the 3rd of September and he may be asked for a bit more on that day.

"After that, we'll be looking to find a race for him.

"No Rain Ever and Frank The Tank were much the same, all of these three were just there for a day out and have come through with flying colours.

"They will also trial again, and we'll be finding races for them from mid-September onwards."

MALI STON TURNS HEADS WITH FOXBRIDGE RUN

There was a time when Darryn Weatherley wondered if Mali Ston (NZ) (El Roca) would ever return to a racecourse, but patience and perseverance paid off when the talented gelding kicked off his season with a powerful second in Saturday's Gr.2 Foxbridge Plate (1200m).

The Group Two-winning son of El Roca was underrated in the sprint contest, jumping a $39 chance with Sacred Satono (NZ) (Satono Aladdin) and Skew Wiff (NZ) (Savabeel) as the favoured horses in a competitive running of the Te Rapa feature.

Settling back near the tail throughout the race, Mali Ston tracked the widest turning for home and stormed past all of his rivals bar the winner, Bonny Lass (NZ) (Super Easy). The sectionals told the story of his effort, with the fastest closing 800, 600, 400 and 200 metres of the field, including the only sub-37 second last 600 in the Heavy9 conditions.

Weatherley, who prepares Mali Ston in partnership with daughter Briar, was thrilled with the effort.

"His run was huge, we would've honestly been pleased if he had run home for fourth or fifth, but to run second was really encouraging going forward," he said.

"His sectionals were the best of the race, so he's in the right space."

Mali Ston was partnered by Weatherley's son Sam, who has been on board for each of his five successes, including the Gr.2 Rich Hill Mile (1600m) of 2022. That victory was followed by a third in the Gr.1 Thorndon Mile (1600m), but Mali Ston then wasn't seen on a New Zealand racetrack for over 18 months after sustaining a broken pedal bone.

"He's always shown us a lot of ability and had 18 months off with an injury, and then last prep he was just starting to come back to his normal self in those last couple of runs and went some good, creditable races," Weatherley said.

"He ran second in the Japan Trophy at his last start of last prep, then we decided to spell him and obviously fresh-up yesterday he's run very well.

"He's looking better now than he ever has, he's been a slow-maturing horse and we were very lucky to get him back, he was 50/50 as to whether he would survive, let alone get back to the racecourse.

"I had a wee tear in the eye watching him go so well behind a very good mare in Bonny Lass, in what has been a time-honoured race."

Many of the Foxbridge field are now headed towards the Gr.1 Tarzino Trophy (1400m) at Hastings in a fortnight, but Weatherley indicated Mali Ston will bypass the opening day of the carnival in favour of the Gr.1 Arrowfield Stud Plate (1600m) on September 28.

"We didn't nominate for the 1400 at Hastings, he doesn't take a lot of racing so he may have a quiet trial then go down for the mile and hopefully can be competitive in that," he said.

"We do think he's a better miler or fast 2000 metre horse, he tends to run better when the race is run strongly and he's off the bridle and seems to be able to come over the top of them.

"He just minds his own business at the back of the field finishing his coffee, then when it's time to go he can really put in.

"Sam won the Rich Hill Mile on him prior to his injury, so they've got a good association and he knows this horse well.

"They just seem to click, Sam leave him alone early and lets him go through his gears. It would be good if we could get a result at Hastings."

Mali Ston ran in the familiar colours of his breeder-owners Markwood Lodge. – LOVERACING.NZ News Desk

TRIGGER PEGASUS (NZ) CAPTURES CHARITY CUP

The strong influence of New Zealand thoroughbreds and Karaka graduates in Malaysian racing was once again on display in Perak Turf Club's RM100,000 Charity Cup (1400m) on Sunday, won in blistering come-from-behind style by Trigger Pegasus (NZ) (Deep Field).

Trigger Pegasus was bred by Blandford Lodge's Helen-Gaye and Graham Bax in partnership with Lib Petagna's JML Bloodstock Ltd. Offered by Blandford Lodge in Book 1 of Karaka 2020, he was a $70,000 purchase by David Ellis and Fortuna Racing. From a 22-start career, Trigger Pegasus has now had five wins and six placings and banked the equivalent of more than NZ$250,000.

The Charity Cup was the first black-type success for Trigger Pegasus, who settled a long way back in a strung-out field and had only one horse behind him coming around the home turn. But apprentice jockey A Azizi got him into clear air down the outside of the straight and let him rip, and Trigger Pegasus produced a barnstorming finish to flash past Quicken Away (Mint Lane) and score a brilliant win.

The six-year-old is trained by Nick Selvan for owner Zarinah Binti Abdul Hamid.

Trigger Pegasus has been well-travelled, having started his career with a third and two fourths from three appearances in New Zealand in October and November of 2021. He then travelled to Singapore, where he won four times from 17 appearances and finished fifth in the EW Barker Trophy (1400m) and sixth in the Silver Bowl (1400m).

Sunday's Charity Cup was the second start in Malaysia for Trigger Pegasus. He had finished fourth in the Korea Racing Authority Trophy (1250m) at Selangor on August 11.
